As a dating coach, it's my job to help you get the results you want as you search for great people to date...and maybe even find the love of your life!

COULD COACHING HELP YOU?

A coach is your biggest cheerleader and empowerment partner, and my goal is to help you save time, energy, and money as you search for compatible matches. Coaching could DEFINITELY help you if:

- You're not sure where to meet other single/divorced/widowed people
- You want to have more dates than you've been having recently
- You want to try online dating but aren't sure how to start
- You've tried online dating but haven't been happy with the results

DATING COACHING SERVICES

SOUND ADVICE ON HAVING MORE SUCCESS WITH ONLINE DATING I met my second husband online at age 50 and learned plenty of tips and techniques to get more replies, more meetings, and more dates, including:

- which sites are best
- how to write a great profile and initial e-mails
- how to screen prospects on the phone
- how to know if someone is lying at the first meeting
- how to stay positive, proactive, persistent, and patient during the process

EXPERT GUIDANCE TO SINGLES EVENTS AND VENUES I dated for 9 years after my divorce and know plenty of places and groups where singles meet. I also help singles prepare for speed dating events and/or start their own single "Meetups" online.

HELP IMPROVING SELF-CONFIDENCE BEFORE DATING Confidence is 70% of the success formula in dating, and I can help you gain confidence and feel like a "great catch" BEFORE heading out into the dating world. I'll give you an assessment that measures your "attractability" and suggest ways to use the Law of Attraction to best advantage to attract great dates.

COUNSELING ON UNDERSTANDING THE OPPOSITE SEX The more you know about how and why the opposite sex thinks and behaves, the easier dating will be. I provide insights and answer your questions about the mysteries of dating, so you can be smarter and more successful in your interactions.
